NSC DIRECTIVE

Pursuant to the provisions of paragraphs (d) and (e) of Section 102 of the National Security Act of 1947 and in furtherance of paragraphs 5 and 6.a(2) of NSC 50, the National Security Council hereby authorizes and directs the following readjustment of the functions and organization of ~~the Intelligence Review Committee~~ ^{As Fed. Staff, Intelligence, System} of the Central Intelligence Agency, in order specifically to insure more effective production of national intelligence estimates and studies, and to provide continuous surveillance of current intelligence:

GENERAL

1. National intelligence is that intelligence required in the formulation of policy at the national (i.e. supra-departmental) level. As stated in NSCID-3, such intelligence inevitably "covers the broad aspects of national policy and national security", and normally it "transcends the exclusive competence of a single department or agency or the military establishment". Regardless of its content, however, intelligence used in the formulation of national policy must have an inter-departmental basis, i.e., it must embody pertinent departmental intelligence resources and be subjected to adequate safeguards against bias. Strictly political or strictly military intelligence estimates, for example, should be considered as national intelligence in those cases where such estimates are required in the formulation of policy at the national level, and as national intelligence they would be the responsibility of CIA.
